

In the MIRROR a familiar friend,
Strong and dependable to the very end –
Daylight there whenever you need him,
Latenights up through thick and thin.

Puzzle solver, answer finder,
Sapphire Soul, diamond reminder,
In a once in a lifetime wintered sky –
Cascading long edge of why.

Deep with secrets, mesas, cliffs,
Asking Heaven what about what if's –
Saturn recalls she left this clue,
“There's one thing you need to remember to do.”

You probably knew where this was going,
You got that practical kind of knowing –
Well... so... what do you say?
Ready to shine like the Sun today?
