

A ***

Woke inside an Earthbound dream,
Minded to figure out the scheme –
A world of frogs and soaring eagles,
Mosques, temples, medieval cathedrals.

Incredible garden of that he's sure,
Morning dew dancing misty stir –
Emergent living miracle,
Altruism made visible.

Satin touches all night long –
Is the radio playing your favorite song?
Like African rhythms electric guitars?
What's it mean all those stars?

One family line's saviors the other one's dervishes,
We got big need of your kind of services –
The walls are crumblin' the ground's shakin',
Temp's rising since last been taken.
