Once upon a Halloween,
Leaves fallen trees in dream –
When all of a sudden the movie began,
Imagine you're in it. I know you can.

Here's then what was happening there –
A magical family, a home full of care,
Your own room, your own bed,
And you of course, plus the color red.

You've an angel and very cool clothes,
You know things no one else knows,
You can be quiet or make people smile –
All in all your own special style.

As it happened there were rivers to cross,
You know, challenges, responsibilities, the cost,
Over and over just one price –
Try hard to learn and always be nice.
