

help wanted

narrative field workers planet in distress

powerful species infected with a failing master narrative embedded with the idea of a separate self / celebrating competition in possession of weapons of mass destruction widespread violence against women / abuse of animals / children unnecessary suffering / poverty / joblessness / exploitation infection resistant to remedial measures symptoms include: escalating global fever rapid depletion of biological diversity dwindling resources escalating political incohesion doomsday scenarios in canalized entertainment media planet has seen similar signs prior to earlier catastrophic extinction events needs immediate assistance altering the narrative field desired discourses include (but not limited to):

sense of wonder / appreciation of beauty / sensibility for the sacred love of Nature / celebration of diversity / profiles of courage and integrity posts encouraging compassion / listening with the heart / identifying with others fusions that open minds to possibility / make improbable conceivable scientific logic and altruistic reasoning a plus located deep in the arms of a spiral galaxy situation not hopeless much more going on than meets the eye urgent read the last lines my child's hand is slipping away