

morning dream

you love brought a morning dream took us places one can't reach alone piecing together memory and story crossing lines

you understood this troubled night a world in fear thinking the Universe doesn't speak we're driving the animals, oceans, minds to the edge a chaos as before the triune Quarks sharing Energy created Time; before the altruism of the Long Chain Polymers began Life; before hosting and sacrifice birthed the Nucleated Cell; — all transitions seemingly impossible before it's going to take everyone doing the unexpected individuals each on their own trajectory of liberation freely choosing to take up a role in changing what we've got to what our Hearts long to see for Humanity to become the globally responsible Species we could be healing our Planet taking Care of One Another redeeming this Home we're passing to the Children

Nature bears wonders yet unseen
