Wrapped in a lavender summer evening,
Heaven signed with lacey lightning,
Not much later gray abounds –
Quiet stillness then the sound.

At the shoreline contemplating,
Living waters sacred circulating –
The possibility she wants most,
Dream of Life humans host.

Like a sister by your side,
Who's seen it all and two days cried –
Now story needs a whole new start,
If she remembers that's her part.

Sunshine through the morning window,
Definitively soft warm glow,
Unintimidated with spirit to spare –
A leader Earth has a prayer.
